

ZOOMING OUT

a spoken word poetry template by Jorah LaFleur

-----

Today, I play my roles.

I am _____, _____, _____.
(a life role you play) (a life role you play) (a life role you play)

I am _____, _____, I am _____.
(an animal) (a musical instrument) (an article of clothing)

Today, I feel _____.
(a color)

My _____ tastes like _____.
(an emotion you're feeling) (what food/flavor does that emotion taste like?)

Looking around, I hear the sound of _____, as my eyes spy
(sound(s) you can hear)

_____, _____, and _____.
(something you can see) (something you can see) (something you can see)

This _____ is a _____.
(where you are) (form of transportation)

Zooming out, I think about, my community, my fellow _____.
(plural noun)

All of us zooming through space in this place we call home.

This place that smells like _____,
(a local plant or tree, plural)

and _____ from _____.
(a food from your favorite local restaurant) (name of restaurant)

Today, I play my roles, pursue my goals, while the whole _____
(a shape)

goes on around me. How marvelous to be so _____,
(an adjective that describes size)

and the size of a/an/the _____.
(local noun)
